

Radiology Partners Takes Steps to Advance its Mission of Transforming Radiology

Commences Comprehensive Set of Financing Transactions to Provide the Financial Resources to Drive Next Phase of Growth and Value Creation

(EL SEGUNDO, Calif.) Jan. 19, 2024 – Radiology Partners (RP), the leading radiology practice in the U.S. through its owned and affiliated practices, today announced it is commencing a comprehensive set of financing transactions to strengthen its financial position, increase its financial flexibility and support its continued growth. As part of these actions, RP is commencing an exchange offer with respect to its existing notes and will commence certain amend and extend transactions with respect to its outstanding credit facilities. RP also expects to raise new equity concurrent with the closing of the refinancing transactions.

“As we look to the future and prepare for our next phase of growth, the steps we are initiating today will enable us to build on our position as a leading physician-led radiology practice in the U.S.,” said Rich Whitney, RP’s Board Chair and CEO. “This comprehensive set of financing transactions will provide us the financial resources and flexibility to continue aggressively investing in our practice, expanding our services to additional clients and geographies and extending our technology platform and AI capabilities for the benefit of our patients, hospital partners and physicians.”

“This is a significant, positive announcement for Radiology Partners,” said Rod Owen, MD, RP radiologist and Board Director. “We are appreciative of the long-term support of our lenders and equity partners, which has been a key ingredient to our success. This set of transactions will position us to accelerate progress on our mission to transform radiology and broaden our positive impact on patients and the healthcare system.”
